Summer Classes are Starting!
It's time to brush up on those old skills and learn a few tricks of the trade!

July 2009

Whether you have always wanted to learn to bead, or have already mastered a variety of techniques and stitches, these classes provide new ideas and opportunities for utilizing beads, stones, pendants, wire, chain and findings.

You'll have the opportunity to meet other bead enthusiasts exchange ideas and develop skills you never knew you had with a variety of creative projects featuring complete how-to demonstrations, tips, and techniques.

Professional shows, at the Craft Guild's Women Artists Show, and at the Arts Magnet Professional shows, as well as the Fiber Artists of Texas and of Dallas Shows, Thirteen Texas Craft Artists at the Rock House Gallery in Arlington, and the Wear Artists Show at Eastfield College. Elizabeth earned a BA/BS degree in Interior Design from Texas Woman's University and did graduate study in jewelry and textiles in Denmark and Finland. During her teaching career, she was awarded a scholarship to study in a summer program at the Rhode Island School of Design. She is a member and has held offices in many professional organizations such as Fiber Artists of Dallas, Dallas Bead Society, Dallas Handweavers and Wear Artists. She has supported the Craft Guild of Dallas and the Dallas Museum of Art since 1960.

Always anxious to develop new ideas and techniques, Elizabeth has designed a series of workshops to share her passion for working with beads.

Kelly Ladas

Is the co-owner of San Francisco Arts & Crafts. She has been doing bead work professionally for over 35 years. Kelly started making and selling her work under the City of San Francisco's Street Artist Program. Part of the creativity was in reinventing her work over the years. The evolution from Puka Shell necklaces to craft shows, designing, trade shows to bead store in Sonoma has been a learning experience. She's always trying to find the best way do get it done right!
